

Allan's Rules

Rule Number One	You Always Get More of What You Subsidize
Rule Number Two	An Empty Belly Will Follow Anyone
Rule Number Three	the government can't keep you from failing and it can't promote you to success
Rule Number Four	There is a fundamental right to fail, not succeed
Rule Number Five	Freedom has a twin brother called Responsibility
Rule Number Six	Always evaluate the evaluator
Rule Number Seven	People follow others because they believe you believe in what you espouse
Rule Number Eight	Play Your Own Game
Rule Number Nine	Life is simple. Humans complicate it.
Rule Number Ten	Life is Agnostic
Rule Number Eleven	Truthful things are obvious on their face
Rule Number Twelve	If you have more than them, people want what you have
Rule Number Thirteen	By definition, youthful individuals frequently don't know what they think they know
Rule Number Fourteen	Dumb people can be convinced of anything
Rule Number Fifteen	Insular Nations exist to create a structure that leads to innovation and conditions that then leads to wider availability
Rule Number Sixteen	There is not enough wealth in the world to satisfy everyone's needs. Needs will always grow faster than resources
Rule Number Seventeen	People are neither born honest nor born cheats. Genes and Life Experiences temper those outcomes
Rule Number Eighteen	Efforts to buttonhole individuals as "Elitists, Racists or other labels frequently are cover for insidious distraction
Rule Number Nineteen	Truth is never situational. It is either true or false
Rule Number Twenty	Life thrives on truth and light and recedes in the darkness
Rule Number Twenty-One	Most people do things for selfish reasons and are not authentically altruistic
Rule Number Twenty-Two	People will take what is offered without any concern or compunction to repay what has been given to them
Rule Number Twenty-Three	People will always kill the Golden Goose—they don't value what they don't create
Rule Number Twenty-Four	People always find a way to blame others for their shortcomings and failures.
Rule Number Twenty-Five	There is a statute of limitation on all good acts
Rule Number Twenty-Six	Good must always confront Evil
Rule Number Twenty-Seven	If it was easy...everyone would be doing it
Rule Number Twenty-Eight	Take the Shot
Rule Number Twenty-Nine	Speed is Life

Rule Number Thirty	Truth is never Situational
Rule Number Thirty-One	Avarice and Greed are normal human traits
Rule Number Thirty-Two	There is only one logical truth, but many interpretations	